COMMUNICATIONS FROM COUNCILCOUNCILMEMBER RAPUNDALO

Councilmember Rapundalo commented on the status of negotiations with the Ann Arbor firefighters. He stated there is a misperception that the City refuses to meet with the firefighters for the purpose of negotiating a new contract. That information is not accurate. The City has met with the firefighters and their negotiating team at least 16 times, the most recent being approximately a week ago, and the negotiations are currently in arbitration at the firefighters' request.

COUNCILMEMBER KUNSELMAN

Councilmember Kunselman updated Council and the public on a storm water issue at the Arbor Oaks subdivision. Councilmember Kunselman stated he and Councilmember Rapundalo contacted Paul Ganz, Regional Manager of DTE regarding the location of an electrical box near the storm water drainage. DTE crews were sent out to investigate and it was determined that everything was safe. DTE crew members will make visual changes to address issues that were raised by the neighbors.

COUNCILMEMBER ANGLIN

Councilmember Anglin talked about the current budget process. He said that the budget for FY2011 includes a non-departmental contingency of $639,000.00 allocated for overruns in the Justice Center construction. In the proposed FY2012 budget, there is another $600,000.00 for asbestos abatement related to the Justice Center construction. Councilmember Anglin expressed concern about the overrun on the cost of the construction and that funds are being shifted to finish the project that is 50,000 square feet oversized. Councilmember Anglin stated that no additional monies should be budgeted for the project and that the building is already occupied in its current condition.

MAYOR HIEFTJE

Mayor Hieftje updated the public regarding a fire services study that is ongoing in Ann Arbor. The study is being conducted by the ICMA, at the City's request. It is a comprehensive study of the City's fire services now and in the past, as well as a comparison with other communities. He asked Interim City Administrator Tom Crawford when the study would be complete.

Mr. Crawford said that he expects the study to be complete sometime in July 2011.

Mayor Hieftje clarified that at that time, if adjustments to the budget were needed as a result of the study, Council could amend the budget at any time after it is passed at the second meeting in May.

Mr. Crawford concurred that Council could amend the budget during the year at any time, if the situation changes.

Mayor Hieftje asked Interim Administrator Crawford about a comment made by a speaker regarding $103 million dollars in a rainy day fund.

Mr. Crawford said that the speaker was looking at the city's audit report. In the report, there are two different accounting standards that are used. He believed that the speaker was referring to the government-wide financial statements. That means all funds whether restricted or not, which include all of the water funds, sewer funds, etc., are all aggregated together and it's that fund balance that the speaker was referencing.

Council asked the city attorney to provide information regarding the transfer of funds from one fund to another. The city attorney was also asked to provide information regarding creating an ordinance to help fund human services.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE CITY ADMINISTRATOR

Interim City Administrator Tom Crawford reported on the following:
