REPORT FROM STAFF*Ann Arbor Public Art Commission December 2021 Planning Notes*

A2AC Murals -. The project has been delayed but is planning on moving forward this spring. We should be on the Historic Commission's December agenda and will understand more about what's possible within 3 of the 4 sites located within the District. We've also been in communication with Craig's team in order to understand the transportation department's requirements and have been adjusting our proposals accordingly. We're waiting on the stamped structural engineer's drawings in order to submit the revised proposals to both the Building Department and begin the process of developing an agreement with the Transportation Department through the City Attorney's Office. It has certainly taken longer and proven to be more work than we anticipated, but are trudging forward and trying to keep the project on course. Thanks for checking in and we'll try to remember to keep you updated as we proceed. (Jason Ennis)*

UPDATE - Project moving forward as planned.

BLM Street Mural – CM Radina reached out to the organizers asking if they would be amenable to putting the mural in the intersection. Staff waiting on a response from Ms. Duckworth and her team. (CM Radina)*

UPDATE - Project to move forward as a City project with paint to be supplied by the City.

Mayor's Flag Re-Design Project – Mayor Taylor is eager to move forward with the Art Commission. Mayor Taylor must make this request and draft resolution directing staff undertake the project. UPDATE - Craig to verify interest with the Mayor and develop a final resolution for Council approval to move this forward.*

CIP Materials Online - As an FYI, the new CIP and supporting materials for the December 7th public hearing*

UPDATE - Updated CIP Plan shared

Golden Paintbrush Certificate Design (attached)*

UPDATE - Winners selected with discussion on advertisement, announcement of winners and public engagement options.
