Transportation Commissioners,

It is with a heavy heart that we inform you of the passing of Linda Diane Feldt on Wednesday November 17. Linda Diane's impacts on the community are vast and will be positively felt for generations. In addition to numerous worthwhile causes, she was a founding member and chair of the Pedestrian Safety and Access Task Force (2014-2015) as well as the Transportation Commission (established 2017). As a lifetime resident of Ann Arbor and highly engaged community advocate for pedestrian and bicyclist safety, she has touched the lives of many, including those she worked with directly through service on boards, commissions, task forces and advisory committees. And she has touched the lives of all of us who use Ann Arbor's transportation systems by advocating tirelessly for safety and improvements to transportation policy and infrastructure.

Here is a tribute to Linda Diane in MLive: <https://www.mlive.com/news/ann-arbor/2021/11/ann-arbors-linda-diane-feldt-remembered-as-resident-advocate-of-the-highest-order.html>

Condolences are extended to her family, friends, and all who had the good fortune to work with Linda Diane. The City of Ann Arbor and the Transportation Commission are grateful for Linda Diane Feldt's dedication to continuously improving the community around her. She will be deeply missed.

Sadly,

Molly Kleinman, Raymond Hess, and Kayla Coleman
