Good afternoon,

Could you please clarify the plans for the South Seventh bike lane / street parking? It sounds like the Transportation Commission is moving forward with something that wasn't discussed at the September 13 informational meeting, and the attendees (such as myself) weren't notified about the Transportation Commission on September 20 either.

The most equitable way forward would be to arrange a community Zoom meeting like the one that was held on 9/13 (with postcards distributed like that one) so that the Transportation Commission can explain the plans in greater detail to the neighborhood.

Sincerely,
Tony Scott
