I believe in voicing concerns, but I also believe a lot in voicing compliments. My biggest concern about SPARK is. The past dealt with the poor transparency and disclosure. That concern no longer exists, as SPARK makes its documents available and creates high quality reports like this. I'll encourage them to do more with local companies, but otherwise it's doing a good job.

It's nice to see how the minutes speak of the conflicts of interest. It's also nice to see how those conflicts were handled appropriately. Good stuff.
