Dear Nancy, Thank you for writing, and very sorry for the belated reply! The school crossing will not be moved – the AAPS Transportation Safety Cte. met this a.m. at King School and this question was discussed and the consensus recommendation at this juncture is to not move the school crossing. I have sent a separate message to our transportation engineers re: the icy conditions at the intersection and so they are aware of the concerns you raise regarding sliding, south to north at this intersection. The AAPS has endorsed completion of the sidewalk along Waldenwood adjacent to King School, but children will still be assisted in crossing mid-block at the entrance.

Hope this is helpful, very sorry for my belated reply, and thanks so much for taking the time to share your concerns.

My name is Nancy Meader. I have lived on Waldenwood for 45 years. I was told this morning that there may be a vote to move the school crossing from directly in front of the school to the corner of Penberton and Waldenwood.

My concern is the safety of the children. I am a rather slow cautious driver and have slid into that intersection many times. Waldenwood slopes at that location from south to north therefore it is slow to melt. Even knowing that it is a problem corner, and going slowly and carefully, when my car hits the ice I can't stop.

The thought of hitting a child because of icy road conditions is too horrible to think of. Please take this into consideration when deciding if the school crossing should be changed.

Dear Councilwoman Teall,

At the end of November I wrote you seeking your assistance in fixing the streetlight issues on Packard. I am sad to report that those issues are still not resolved.

In mid-December, some of the lights did come back on, but that was short-lived. They are again not functioning. It is dark and with all of the snow and ice, very dangerous.

I live at [REDACTED] and own a business just a couple of blocks away. I walk to work at 6am every day, but that has been a very scary commute this winter. It is too dark to see well and it's easy to fall. In fact, my first client in the morning likes to start her workouts by walking outdoors. We go most mornings and we have taken to carrying flashlights just to try to watch our steps. Even then, our focus is on exercising. Unfortunately but predictably, each of us has fallen several times over the past month, specifically because we could not see the ice quick enough to avoid it.

I know you told me in follow up emails that the city was attempting to work with DTE to resolve the streetlight problem, but it has now been months. Can you please help this process happen ASAP.

Sincerely,

Susan Tait

- (i) Whether D1 zoning is appropriately located on the north side of Huron Street between Division and S. State and the south side of William Street between S. Main and Fourth Avenue;
- (ii) Whether the D1 residential FAR premiums effectively encourage a diverse downtown population;
- (iii) Whether a parcel on the south side of Ann St. adjacent to City Hall that is currently zoned D1 should be rezoned to the appropriate zoning for this neighborhood;

Whereas, ENP & Associates was hired by the City in July 2013 to conduct an evaluation of the downtown zoning changes;

- (2) Reduce the maximum height in the East Huron 1 Character District to 120 feet, include a tower diagonal maximum and consider a step-back requirement to reduce the shading of residential properties to the north.
- (3) Rezone the parcel at 425 S. Main from D1 (Downtown Core) to D2 (Downtown Interface) and establish a maximum height of 60 feet for D2 zoning in the Main Street Character District.
- (4) Revise the premium conditions to require mandatory compliance with core design guidelines for a project to receive any premium in the D1 or D2 districts.
- (5) Reduce the residential premium with the goal of encouraging the use of other existing or proposed premiums to compensate for this reduction, such as increased energy efficiency certification, open space with landscape, active ground floor use, balconies and workforce housing.

The City-School Transportation Committee met today. The summary below was prepared by Pat Cawley who is a committee member.

1. Approved previous minutes.
2. Deb Mexicotte was not able to join the meeting. Committee charge review postponed.
3. Seventh and Madison crossing issue : actually concerns is regarding crossing Madison at 4th and 5th. The intersection at 5th presently has a crossing guard. Agreed to meet on site with Brad Mellor (AAPS) , Jamie Adkins (AAPD) and Pat Cawley (City) to evaluate if issues / changes needed.
4. Added King School to agenda. Three items of discussion, one sidewalk proposal support, two the relocation of crosswalk / elimination of crossing guard and third circulation issues and request to examine crossing guard relocation to north driveway
 - a. Committee still supports sidewalk gap construction

b. Some additional crossing at Waldenwood / Penberton expected (SW of school) and crosswalk at south driveway okay to remain for walkers from the north. No plan to remove crossing guard, AAPS still sees need. Cannot be guaranteed but demand is not decreasing.

c. Traffic count data just finished by the City and the relocation of the crossing guard will need to be jointly evaluated. Number of conflicts appear to be higher at north driveway.

5. Tracking log items were reviewed for status.

In short staff has viewed the sidewalk as a safety improvement albeit with marginal impact (serves walkers from the SW).

To All:

Congratulations to all of you, with your presence, your talks, and your continued support at tonight's City Council meeting which, after a lot of intelligent discussion, led to a unanimous support for moving forward the eight zoning change recommendations of the Planning Commission that were submitted to City Council. Sabra Briere, Jane Lumm, and Jack Eaton deserve a special thanks for their work in adding amendments to the City Council resolution that made it possible for our recommendations to go back to the Planning Commission for further development. The recommendations are expected to be acted upon by October of 2014.

I suggest you go to the Michigan Chronicle and the Ann Arbor News for specific information about the meeting. Of course, it's not a done deal. We will all be needed in the future as discussions and public hearings continue at various levels. It won't be easy, but the results will make it worthwhile.

Good work, and good night!

Sabra - I'm home from Council now. I wish you the same.

I agree with all of your review process statements. To bad the developers never show preliminary plans, well beyond the sketches that the DRB and the public would like. Could it be required some way?

Very interesting meeting tonight. I'll turn it on to see if you are still there, working. Eppie

Right now, the stop at Design Review is directly after the stop at Citizen Participation - first that meeting is held, then the developer submits preliminary plans and, before staff work on the project, the Design Review Board looks at the plans.

What I've heard is that they'd like to see them AT LEAST TWICE. That way, they can provide feedback on whether the developer took their advice.

They don't want to be the gatekeeper, though. They want to offer advice to the developer, and then pass their report (hit the mark or didn't) on to the Planning Commission.

Before we get too far into this, though, the ordinance governing design review guidelines must be re-written. Specific core guidelines must be identified, and some mechanism for determining whether those guidelines have been met must be established.

We want to do this right.

Peter - The Design Review Board, itself, in discussion, said they would like to review preliminary sketches to make comments, then see the final plans to see whether or not the comments were incorporated into the plans.

Based on long-ago discussions, I would like us to consider that it be required that alternative plans and designs be shown at the early stage. The DRB would really have something to work with and so would the public.

I've written this to someone already. Sabra? Eppie

Hi Sabra,
I wondering if the task force has been chosen yet?

Given the necessity to amend the budget by the 2nd mtg. in June at the latest, I think delaying to June 17th is not helpful.

My plan was to request that the second reading occur on June 3 - although I've discussed delaying until June 17.

I understand the timing issue, but would like to confirm when the 2nd reading of the ordinance will come before council. Since the 1st reading of the ordinance was postponed to Monday's meeting, will the 2nd reading occur on May 20th or June 3rd? Tom will you please draft the necessary budget amendment language so that I can present it as part of the budget approval, just in case. Thanks you, Jane

Given the proposed amendment to the Public Art ordinance, I am wondering about the RESOLVED clause in the budget resolution. Although it appears that there will not be a vote on the ordinance revisions prior to May 20, is there an effective way to NOT appropriate funds for Public Art in FY14 - but leave open the possibility that the ordinance will fail? I'd really rather make this decision, if necessary, after the ordinance is discussed and voted upon.
