Construction of the Dam

- Smithsonian American Art Museum; William Gropper 1938

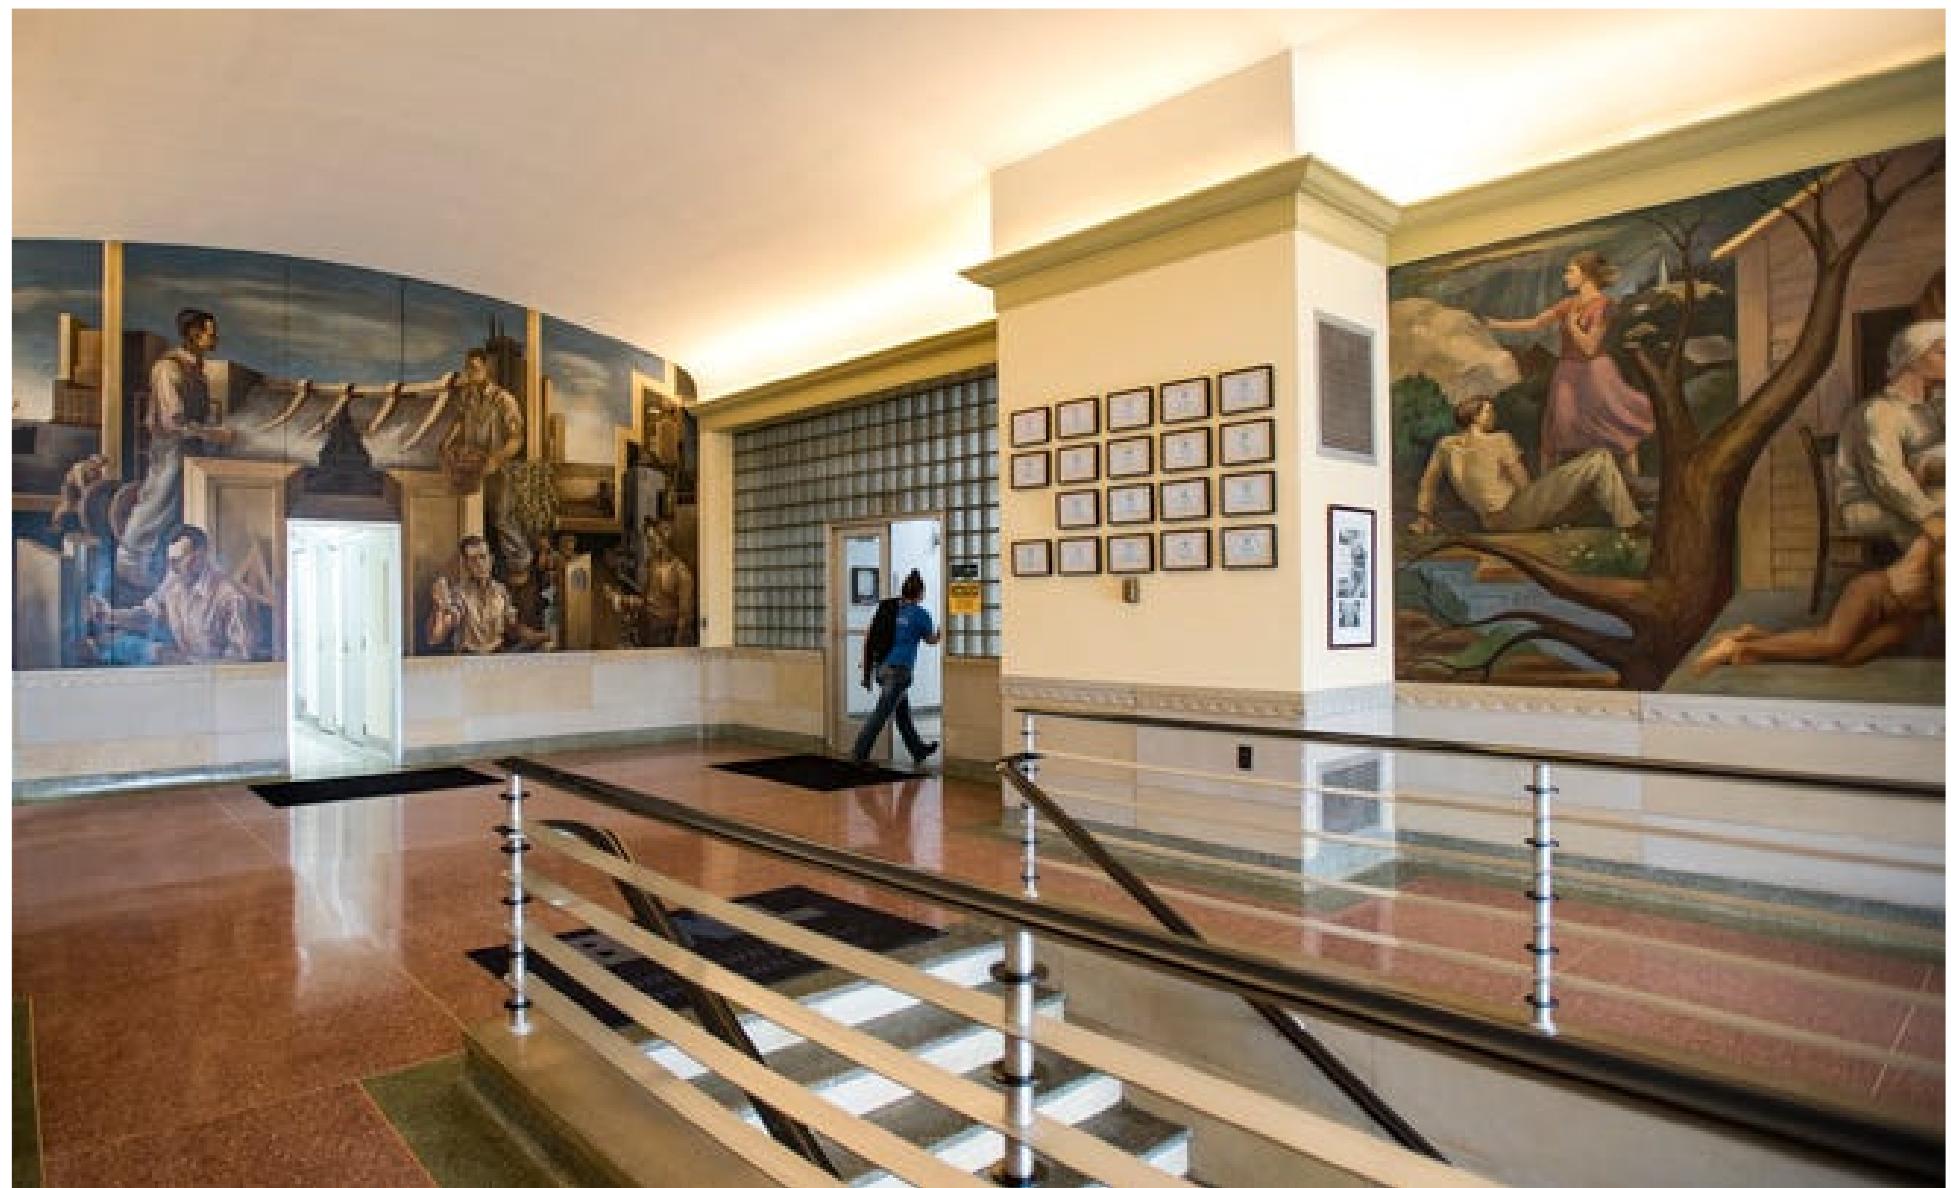

A large-scale mural painting depicting a factory interior. Numerous workers in overalls and hats are shown at various stations, operating machinery and working on large metal components. The scene is filled with complex mechanical structures, pipes, and scaffolding. The lighting is dramatic, highlighting the industrial environment. In the bottom left corner, there is a small inset showing a close-up of a worker's hands and a piece of machinery.
