Resolution to Annually Update Formula Calculation for a Per-Unit Contribution Amount for Affordable Housing Contributions for Planned Unit Development Districts

REVISED - MEMORANDUM

Attached for City Council review and approval is a resolution updating the formula calculation for the affordable housing contribution provisions of the Planned Unit Development Ordinance. This resolution implements Section 5:80(6)(e)(ii) of the PUD ordinance.

The formula for the PUD affordable housing contribution is set by Council resolution on an annual basis at the beginning of each fiscal year. The Council resolution establishes a per-unit contribution that offsets the difference between the cost to purchase a moderately priced housing unit in the current Ann Arbor market and the sales price that is affordable to a lower income household.

In developing the affordable housing contribution formula, Community Development staff targeted a moderately priced home for the area at the 43rd percentile of all residential property sales (excluding vacant land and commercial property) from a three- month period. The 43rd percentile for the period of February, 2007 to April, 2007 was $212,500. The affordable sales price to a lower income household of four at 80% of the Area Median Income (AMI) is currently $119,200. The difference between the two figures represents a $93,300 gap in affordability, which will be used as the amount of contribution required per unit from the developer, in lieu of providing the units on-site. For PUDs of up to 9 dwelling units, a pro-rated formula contribution is proposed.

The $93,300 is an increase of $4,300 from the current cash-in-lieu contribution amount of $89,000.

PUD affordable housing contributions will be deposited in the Ann Arbor Housing Trust Fund, where they would be available to non-profit and for-profit developers to subsidize the cost of new or rehabilitated residential units to make them affordable to lower income households.

The Office of Community Development recommends that the City Council approve this resolution to update the formula calculation for PUD affordable housing contributions.

RESOLVED, That City Council will use the following formula to determine the per-unit affordable housing contribution for each fiscal year for PUD Zoning Districts where there are 10 or more units:

- 1) A moderately priced housing unit will be determined by calculating the 43rd percentile of all residential property sales (excluding vacant land and commercial property) in the City of Ann Arbor from February, March and April of the previous fiscal year, using public information provided by the City of Ann Arbor Assessor.

- 2) A sales price that is affordable to a lower income household will be determined by multiplying two (2) times the income of a family of four at 80% Area Median Income (AMI), as published by HUD.
- 3) The difference between the moderately priced housing unit and a housing unit affordable to a lower income household shall determine the affordable housing contribution for each affordable housing unit that is required in the PUD;

MEMORANDUM

TO: Mayor and Council

FROM: Jayne Miller, Community Services Administrator DATE:

August 20, 2007

SUBJECT: Resolution to Annually Update Formula Calculation for a Per-Unit Contribution Amount for Affordable Housing Contributions for Planned Unit Development Districts

Attached for City Council review and approval is a resolution updating the formula calculation for the affordable housing contribution provisions of the Planned Unit Development Ordinance. This resolution implements Section 5:80(6)(e)(ii) of the PUD ordinance.

The formula for the PUD affordable housing contribution is set by Council resolution on an annual basis at the beginning of each fiscal year. The Council resolution establishes a per-unit contribution that offsets the difference between the cost to purchase a moderately priced housing unit in the current Ann Arbor market and the sales price that is affordable to a lower income household. The following formula for FY 07-08 is the same formula Council has adopted since FY 05-06.

In developing the affordable housing contribution formula, Community Development staff targeted a moderately priced home for the area at the 33rd percentile of all residential property sales (excluding vacant land and commercial property) from a three- month period. The 33rd percentile for the period of February, 2007 to April, 2007 was $195,000. The affordable sales price to a lower income household of four at 80% of the Area Median Income (AMI) is currently $119,200. The difference between the two figures represents a $75,800 gap in affordability, which will be used as the amount of contribution required per unit from the developer, in lieu of providing the units on-site. For PUDs of up to 9 dwelling units, a pro-rated formula contribution is proposed.

The $75,800 is a reduction of $13,200 from the current cash-in-lieu contribution amount of $89,000 because there has been a downturn in the Ann Arbor housing market and housing is more affordable than it was a year or two ago.

PUD affordable housing contributions will be deposited in the Ann Arbor Housing Trust Fund, where the funding would be available to non-profit and for-profit developers to subsidize the cost of new or rehabilitated residential units to make them affordable to lower income households.

The Office of Community Development recommends that the City Council approve this resolution to update the formula calculation for PUD affordable housing contributions.
