Brad,

Thank you for reconfirming your commitment regarding doing everything possible to protect as many of the trees as possible. My statements at the meeting were not intended to question your personal integrity on this commitment, but rather, the integrity of the "system" to ensure that what you stated would actually occur. Good intentions often tend to get lost in the crush of real happenings.

Matt, I would request that Brad's commitments and plans become part of the official record for approval of this site plan at the PC meeting this week. Thank you.

I will set up a meeting with you (and any other neighbors you want to come along) prior to major on-site grading activity to identify (in the field) the limits of disturbance and delineate, and adjust if necessary, the same in order to maximize the retention of the existing trees along the western property line while still permitting the construction of the communal retention basin.
