 ACCOMMODATIONS CAN BE MADE FOR PERSONS NEEDING ASSISTANCE WHILE ADDRESSING COUNCIL

1. Eleanor Linn - Noise Control Ordinance (C-2)

Eleanor Linn, 1321 Forest Ct., spoke in support of the proposed Noise Control Ordinance. She said that she has learned from personal experience that there are some glitches in the City's current ordinance. She said that the current ordinance does not state that holidays are to be treated as Sundays and she has endured construction noise on holidays over the last year.

2. Ian Robinson - Living Wage Ordinance (C-1)

Ian Robinson, 3435 Brentwood Ct., expressed concern with the proposed changes to the Living Wage Ordinance, in particular the portion of the ordinance that would raise the threshold at which the ordinance would apply from $10,000.00 to $25,000.00. He also objected to the provision that would exclude non-profits from compliance with the living wage, as many students and other young professionals would be negatively impacted working for non-profits.

3. Debra Polich - Public Art Ordinances (C-6, C-7)

Debra Polich, 2585 Hollywood Dr., addressed Council regarding the two proposed Public Art Ordinance amendments. She asked that if either of the ordinances are approved tonight on First Reading that the public hearing and Second Reading be scheduled out at least 120 days. 120-day notice would give Council, staff and the public plenty of time to have an open discussion and opportunity for input on this community issue.

4. Margaret Parker - Percent for Art (C-6, C-7)

Margaret Parker, 2972 Parkridge Dr., said that Ann Arbor has been designated and established as an arts and culture destination by the Convention and Visitor's Bureau and the award winning Pure Michigan campaign. She said that these designations are one more success that comes from City Council's support for Art in Public Places. She urged Council to continue to support the arts in Ann Arbor.

5. Peter Houk - Alternatives for Constructing a Sidewalk Along Scio Church Road (DS-3)

Peter Houk, 2025 Yeoman Ct., said that he circulated a petition asking the City to install sidewalks on Scio Church Road. He urged Council to approve DS-2 authorizing the study of sidewalks in this area.
