I will look into this as well as the website information. I'm not sure what was communicated with the resident in this case regarding Geddes. It did not come from the City Clerk's Office as the scheduling of the public hearings is on tonight's meeting (not the hearing itself).

A gentleman who owns property on Geddes came to Council expecting to be able to address Council on the issue. He was frustrated to learn he couldn't since there was not info about signup process on the notice. He had received an email as he had signed up on the Geddes info list.

Some thoughts from this interaction:

- * It might be good form to information about signing up for public comment when we provide notice of items coming to City Council;
- * We should list what the deadline for signup is in those instructions on the web and in such notices;
- * I found the title of the web page with signup instructions confusing as it referred to the caucus meetings. It might be helpful if the page were called Council Meeting overview and to strike the word Caucus.

Jane:

Thank you so much for all of the information you have sent to us. It has all been shared with Fred, and his e-mail address is above. He and I have put the City Council Meeting of August 17th on our calendars, and we are planning to attend.

We would very much like to buy you coffee at some point before then just to have a general discussion. We have greatly appreciated the questions you have asked, and we greatly respect the care and attention to pay to the issues that are of such importance to residents. Let us know if there would be a good time to meet with you. I will be away July 30 - August 1.

We look forward to hearing from you. Again, you have our respect and thanks. Mary Anne

Dear Mayor Taylor and Council Members:

First, We want to highlight that we have been housing people since the Zero:2016 campaign began in January of this year. So far, a community effort including the WHA, OCED, PATH, Shelter Association, Ann Arbor Housing Commission, MISSION, HAWC and Avalon Housing Support Team and others have permanently housed 42 veterans and 35 chronically homeless individuals. In fact, members of our board [MISSION] are now in permanent housing as a result of these efforts. We are grateful that Council has put skin in the game for support services and infrastructure repair, and we're sure other resources we am leaving out here. We are also grateful to our all of our community collaborators, including all the council members who came out for Count Day and who have supported our wider community's efforts with votes that deliver concrete resources to the cause of better housing and better social services.

Also, we appreciate CM Briere sharing with you tonight this past weekend's Maiden Lane bridge clean-up project, where our team removing refuse from the camp sites that were shut down this spring. Sabra called Brian Durrance and mentioned to him that residents were asking about whether a cleanup is planned or not. After talking it over, for a day or so we came up with a plan to get this first site cleared. We are hatching a plan for another site that is closer to E. Medical Center Drive, in the near future.

Attached are some pictures of our team in action. As CM Briere mentioned tonight during her "Communications from Council" remarks, we [MISSION] are happy to help out, but our resources are minimal. As an organization, not only do we have operating costs, but also, we have a mortgage and we pay property taxes to the city. We hope, in the future, to collaborate directly with the city to help remove refuse from abandoned and current camp sites alike. If containers we placed at strategic locations, for example, we could have our team[s] fill them up the night before pickup. Let's please not forget that while we have been successful in housing many people, there are many more who are out there and who still need our support. We can and should continue to build a robust continuum-of-care that helps house as many people as we can, while reducing the harm to those relegated to living outside.

I think that is enough for now. I was going to share some thoughts re: the recent HUD Fair Housing rules SCOTUS ruling, but that is enough for now. We'll save that for another time :)

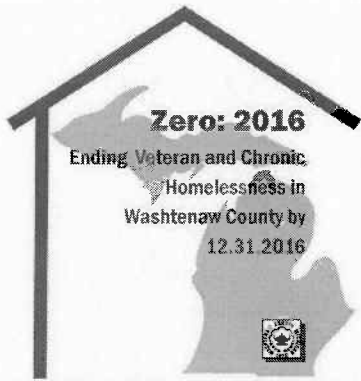

I assume many of you received the two-month Zero:2016 accounting for placements thru May 2015 from Amanda, but if not, it is attached along with pictures from our clean-up. The picture, btw, is the pile of refuse from the bridge we have brought back to our property as we raise money/ find free dumpster space to be able to dispose of it.

Thanks again everyone, we look forward to speaking with you all sometime soon!

Greg and everyone from MISSION

Washtenaw County Zero:2016 MONTHLY DATA REPORT

May 2015 Report

Zero: 2016 Initiative

In January 2015, Washtenaw County joined 74 other communities across the country when it launched its participation in the Zero:2016 Initiative, a national movement to end veteran and chronic homelessness by the end of 2016.

REACHING ZERO

Zero--Defined

The goal of Zero: 2016 is to end homelessness by reaching a “functional zero” count.

Functional zero is reached when, at any point in time, the number of people (veterans or chronic) experiencing sheltered and unsheltered homelessness will be no greater than the current monthly housing placement rate for that population (veterans or chronic).

Overall Goal

- ◆ House 153 homeless veterans by the end of 2015
- ◆ House 121 chronically homeless individuals by the end of 2016

Monthly Goal

In order to end veteran and chronic homelessness in Washtenaw County by the end of 2016 we must house—on average:

- ◆ 13 homeless veterans per month
- ◆ 5 chronically homeless individuals per month
