Ok so this is the right place?

Anyway, we live a few blocks south of The George (just past Eisenhower) and we had actually been looking forward to maybe a restaurant or two opening up there- it's quite a ways from where we live to any dining or grocery options (especially since Lucky's closed). I recognize that there was a bit of a retail slump over the last several years because of the pandemic which may have slowed retail expansion in general (esp as food services shifted over to delivery) but those trends seem to be nearing reversal, and it strikes me that this area would benefit more from some walkable commercial access than from an additional 42 above-market rate apartments.

Hello! Is this the appropriate contact for comments to submit about the The George (I don't like that double-"The" thing but I think maybe it's correct?) development plan? I won't be able to make the wednesday meeting or zoom but I had hoped to submit some comments.

Thanks!

Sam
