From the Chief:

“We will be addressing the concerns related to pedestrians crossing at Crestland and Packard, especially in relation to the new Hazel Coffee opening. EDC Forsberg will activate our Beat Officers and Traffic Officers to actively evaluate and manage this situation to ensure safety and compliance. Furthermore, we will be coordinating with City Transportation team to discuss solutions. Deputy Chief Forsberg, as you determine the outcome and plan, please circle back and provide an update so that we can stay aligned and informed.”

Thanks for bringing this to our attention, Molly.

Thanks, Molly.

I have shared with staff for their consideration of both short and long term solutions — and with Chief Anderson & DC Forsberg for potential immediate-term enforcement/warnings to address any immediate safety concerns.

Hello, Ward 3 and 4 council members and Transportation Commissioners,

The neighborhood is thrilled that Hazel Coffee has finally opened in Packard Row. It has been instantly popular, and has created a new traffic condition that needs urgent remediation: Customers are parking on both sides of Crestland right up to the corner with Packard. It is creating unsafe conditions both for drivers turning off and onto Packard, and for pedestrians crossing Crestland and Packard. As you know, that Packard crosswalk is one of the only ones along this stretch, and Crestland is a school route for children traveling to Pattengill Elementary.

This seems like a great opportunity for a small quick build to daylight those corners. There are already signs telling people not to park there but drivers are routinely ignoring them, especially during the morning rush, which coincides with school drop-off car and bus traffic. Some paint and posts would go a long way.

While I understand and respect the prioritization process the city has for larger projects, this is a case where the condition is new as a result of a new business, and it was understandably not on any lists. It seems like this is the kind of situation the quick build program would be ideal for.

At minimum I hope you will consider non quick build solutions to address illegal parking at the corner of Crestland and Packard.

Sincerely,
Molly Kleinman
Ward 4
