Subject: Comprehensive Plan

I attended an information session at Mallet's Creek yesterday and came away with many more questions than answers. I remain vehemently opposed to the Plan believing that it will very negatively impact the livability of our city without increasing affordability at all. I have witnessed first hand in Seattle the impact of allowing multiple housing units on a single lot. The result has been residential streets clogged with cars, loss of trees and green space, large industrial looking buildings over shadowing neighborhood areas. Any advantage in this scheme seems to be to enrich the pockets of developers who purchase a lot of a million dollars and then cram in four units each at the cost of a million dollars. I do not want to see this happening in our city but believe there is every likelihood of this occurring with the proposed plan.

Sincerely, Vicki Arbour
