Hi all,

My very sincere apologies for missing the last few meetings and being out of touch. I have recently taken a new job which conflicts with commission meetings. I was hoping to be able to work something out but the time conflicts makes it exceedingly difficult to really track what's going on and participate meaningfully. I am going to resign so someone with more time can give this commission the attention it deserves.

Many thanks to all of you for your fantastic work.

Warmly,
Lucy
