

From: Chuck Ream
To: City Council, Planning; William Sverdlik; Sally Haines; Rebecca Arends; Ryan J Stanton; Ryan Bartholomew; Lisa Jevens; Christopher Graham; Tom Stulberg; Anne Bannister; Rita Mitchell; John Godfrey; Christopher Graham; Lisa Jevens
Subject: Future look for Ann Arbor
Date: Wednesday, May 13, 2026 12:07:25 PM

---

Out on Packard, right now, ripping out the trees for luxury housing.

The downtown looks so disgusting, people absolutely do not want this to extend into their neighborhoods.

There is one classic picture here, two giant piles of logs plus a “coming soon“ Sign.

The picture of a single tree illustrates how close these 30,000 pound machines come to the trees, thoroughly compacting their roots. When they die or become diseased in between one and 10 Years, people will call it “natural causes“. Or “disease“. And they will come down too.

Sent from my iPhone