Dear members of the City Council

We are writing to strongly encourage prompt historic designation of the Inglis House and grounds. The Inglis House is immediately recognizable as one of the finest buildings in Ann Arbor to an observer of any nationality or background, because of its remarkable classical design and construction, spectacular site and elegant landscaping.

Since the University has unfortunately decided to sell rather than repurpose one of its most beautiful and elegant holdings, there should be no delay in appropriately recognizing the Inglis House and grounds as of historical importance to the City of Ann Arbor
