Dear Ann Arbor Planning Commission,

I am a new homeowner and new parent in Ann Arbor who struggled for several years to find a home within our budget (and only succeeded by ignoring our budget). I grew up in Ann Arbor and watched as the lack of varied housing types and absence of new homebuilding caused prices to surge and new housing to be pushed to the outskirts of the city. I enthusiastically support the updated draft Comprehensive Plan under review at your meeting this evening. Ann Arbor will continue to change, and if we fail to adopt this plan for the city, that change will continue to make Ann Arbor unaffordable and dispersed. This plan manages the change already underway, and it will direct Ann Arbor to become the best, most sustainable, and most equitable version of itself.

Thanks for considering my input,

Patton Doyle
