Subject: Subject: Please vote YES for carbon neutrality!

Dear City Council Members,

Thank you for your public leadership during the coronavirus crisis. I have great respect for public officials who lead us through times of crisis with wisdom and courage.

Prior to the outbreak of Covid-19, the City of Ann Arbor had been showing great leadership addressing another horrific global threat -- the climate crisis. Last year, you voted to declare a climate emergency in Ann Arbor, and to commit our community to carbon neutrality. That was an act of leadership and wisdom. Thank you.

Since then, City staff have been working with dozens of organizations and hundreds of community members to develop a plan to get our community to zero carbon emissions. The plan will change our City in big and small ways, and it is absolutely critical that we get to work on it right away. The plan is being submitted to City Council for approval, along with its first year of funding.

Please vote YES on the plan, and vote YES for its budget. Those would be acts of leadership, wisdom, and courage -- and those are the acts we need more than ever right now.

Best wishes,
Kevin

It is premature to be approving a plan that is a sweetheart deal for DTE.

We should be looking at how we might construct microgrids, so that we are not faced with being ripped off by DTE when selling electricity back on the grid.

See: <https://youtu.be/WgwipB4U-YU>

<https://pv-magazine-usa.com/2019/05/02/dte-finally-kills-net-metering/>

In a hearing held before the Michigan Public Service Commission (PSC), DTE Energy was finally granted its golden goose: the abolishment of net metering in its service area. And the writing had been on the walls for nearly three years.

In 2016 the Michigan legislature passed Public Acts 341 and 342, which required the PSC to phase out net metering and create a new distributed generation program. The PSC was also tasked with measuring and pricing “a distributed generation customer’s incoming and outgoing electricity flows separately on an instantaneous basis” and established “a method for consistent and appropriate cost-of-service billing”.

What happened next was that DTE made a proposal wherein the electricity that a customer uses from the grid would be billed at the customer's full retail rate and the energy the customer sends out to the grid would be credited to the customer at the average monthly wholesale price of energy; an inflow/outflow model where one flow was valued much more highly than the other.

Subject: Re: Vote YES for climate justice and carbon neutrality!

Good evening, City Council and Mayor,

Thank you for your ongoing leadership on the coronavirus response. I hope you're remaining healthy and safe.

I'm currently watching your Work Session live on CTN, and I understand that you are not likely to read this email until the meeting is over. However, in hopes that this either reaches you during your discussion or impacts later decision-making, I want to make a clarification about the A2Zero plan, about which I sent you an email last week and left an eComment in advance of tonight's meeting.

The A2Zero carbon neutrality proposal is not only a vital step towards climate-related mitigation, adaptation, and justice, but also a plan to substantively improve quality of life for Ann Arborites over the next several decades. It will make Ann Arbor a better place to live with everything from increased affordable community housing, improved and expanded public transit, safer bike lanes, and a reduction in harmful air pollution.

Therefore, anti-A2Zero arguments comparing the cost of individual parts of the plan to those section's reductions in carbon emissions, or indeed any arguments directly comparing plan cost and resulting emission cuts, are misguided. Each part of the plan is designed and financed to make several changes that will make Ann Arbor a better place to live, not just to advance the vital and central goal of carbon neutrality. The plan must be considered as a complete vision and policy and not exclusively as a climate proposal. Carbon neutrality is the central goal, but not the only goal, of the A2Zero plan.

One of these misguided arguments was raised via public comment in tonight's meeting, prompting this email. While I respect all points of view on this multi-faceted issue, I wanted to make the facts are presented to you accurately.

Please pass and fund the plan.

Thank you for your service and leadership! Have a great night. --Elijah, Ward 5

Dear City Council and Mayor,

I hope this email finds you and your families safe and well as our community weathers the coronavirus pandemic.

In addition to Covid-19, we face another health and economic crisis: the climate collapse. I know you recognize the urgency and severity of this looming breakdown because of your emergency declaration and 2030 carbon neutrality pledge last November. Thank you for being leaders and taking those bold steps.

Watching you wisely declare a climate emergency and commit "to take action as a result of that declaration" made me proud to be an Ann Arborite. As a young person, I was thrilled to see Council taking bold and necessary steps to mitigate the crisis of environmental injustice and climate change that will continue to harm our communities unless and until we take action. I have most of my life ahead of me on this planet, but the threat of climate change makes me scared, rather than hopeful, for the future. That doesn't mean there isn't hope left to be had.

The new A2Zero draft carbon neutrality plan is very ambitious. That's a good thing - it's about time for environmental ambition from our leaders. It's also doable, but we need to fully resource it, and we must get to work right away. It's time to back up your commitment from last November by using the City's resources and power to actually achieve carbon neutrality by 2030.

Pass and fund the A2Zero plan to engage in a community transformation that will leave Ann Arbor - and the world - a better and more just place to live.

Thank you for your leadership. Please reach out if you want to discuss this more; I'm happy to chat any time. Stay safe! --Elijah Hatcher-Kay, Ward 5

I realize the budget deadline is looming. I am very glad that Tom Crawford is acting Administrator. At this time we cannot know how badly the City's revenues and investment income will decrease and for how long. The State of Michigan will take a huge hit. Most Michigan cities will as well. I know we like to think Ann Arbor is special. But even here, businesses will not be able to recover and residents will lose jobs or be under-employed. Retirement income will diminish for many. We do not even know when UM students might return.

It is ill-advised to launch a multi-million dollar project or think about new milleages. I know that the advocates will be out in force demanding these go forward immediately. But what is the point of unrealistic budgets which will have to be revised again and again, except to provide fuel for lawsuits.

Please focus on producing a pandemic budget which will cover basic City services and being able to pay the long term debt obligations we already have. Carbon neutrality can be brought back if Ann Arbor is unique in suffering no long term economic losses or if such losses are short-lived.

Thank you for the time and care you give to making Ann Arbor a great small City. Now is the time to try to hold on to what we have, not for costly new projects or purchases.

RESOLVED, that Ann Arbor City Council receives the A²Zero Carbon Neutrality Plan and expresses its appreciation to City Staff for their efforts in providing a comprehensive, timely response to Council's November 4, 2019 Resolution; and

RESOLVED, that City Council requests the City Administrator develop a funding plan by source and year and develop a framework or mechanism for Council to utilize in evaluating and prioritizing high-leverage actions; and

RESOLVED, that City Council requests the City Administrator present the A²Zero Carbon Neutrality Plan to City Council for further consideration when the funding plan and prioritization framework have been developed.

Dear Zachary Ackerman,

I am one of your constituents in Ward 3. I was very proud of the City Council for declaring a climate emergency last year, and for committing to reach carbon neutrality by 2030. Dealing with the climate crisis is a pressing issue that must be dealt with in earnest by every city across the country, and I am happy that you and your fellow council members seem to be taking this issue seriously. I am aware that formal approval of the city's plan must be given by the Council on April 20, and I would like to know where you stand on this issue.

Do you plan to approve full funding for the city's Carbon Neutrality Plan? I am writing to urge you to do so. I would also be interested in your frank assessment of how you think the rest of the Council will be voting. This is an issue of enormous consequence to me and my loved ones, and I would be more than interested in reaching out or having other councilmembers' constituents contact their representatives.

Again, I ask that you support approve funding for this ambitious and necessary plan to reach carbon neutrality by 2030. On another note, I hope that you and your loved ones are healthy and feeling well during this pandemic.

All the best,

Justin Barney

Dear Julie Grand,

Thank you for your role in the meeting tonight, including your “no” vote on the amendment. I am very disappointed in the other members of the council, and I hope that we can see progress on this issue despite the present hiccups.

All the very best,

Justin

Dear Julie Grant,

I am one of your constituents in Ward 3. I was very proud of the City Council for declaring a climate emergency last year, and for committing to reach carbon neutrality by 2030. Dealing with the climate crisis is a pressing issue that must be dealt with in earnest by every city across the country, and I am happy that you and your fellow council members seem to be taking this issue seriously. I am aware that formal approval of the city’s plan must be given by the Council on April 20, and I would like to know where you stand on this issue.

All the best,

Subject: Point of Order/Roberts Rules

Once a vote is cast you cannot turn around and say that the vote should not have been cast. Mr. Postema would have needed to make a ruling on the point of order before the final vote was taken.

Also Mr. Ramwali chose not to withdraw his amendment after further consideration so it is a mute point.

Thank you for your guys work on this.
