Thank you Kristen, you are the best. I don't know if people understand just how afraid these elderly tenants are.

Afraid to leave their apartments in the evening, afraid who might jump on the elevator with them at the last minute, afraid to start washing laundry (A female tenant came upon a vagrant actually sleeping on the folding table in the laundry room. She said she was so scared, she just turned her wheelchair around as fast as she could, and got out of there.)

So thanks! [REDACTED]

Hello Mr. Hoffman. My name is [REDACTED] and I met you at the meeting held at 200 N. Main st. for residents of Courthouse Square Senior apartments.

Thank you btw, for coming to that meeting; it was encouraging to discover there are still those who will look out for the wellbeing of the elderly.

With that being said, PLEASE HELP US, WE ARE IN LITERAL DANGER HERE!

Our front door is broken, it has been unlocked and propped open since last Friday, June 23rd. LITERALLY propped wide open with a stick underneath it!

Homeless people and drug addicts simply walk into this building when the security personnel leave at 1:00 a.m. in the morning. And on the weekend, when the office is closed during the day and security is not scheduled to come till later: well, with the door now broken, criminals and whoever else wants to enter can simply walk in, at their leisure.

OMG, THE WEEKEND!

With the 4th of July holiday approaching, many residents are fearful of what might happen with very limited security presence, and a home that is completely open to the outside world.

It's untenable; please tell this landlord it is both unfair and unsafe to leave us residents in this situation for another weekend, while they remain safe and secure in THEIR private homes!

Please help. My number is [REDACTED] My name is [REDACTED]
