

Ann Arbor Huron High School student released from hospital after being hit by car Friday

By Danielle Arndt

A female student at Huron High School was hit by a car while crossing Huron Parkway Friday afternoon, according to a robocall that Principal Arthur Williams sent to parents Tuesday.

The student suffered injuries and was hospitalized through Sunday, Huron High School officials told AnnArbor.com.

School officials said the girl entered the street at about 4:45 p.m. in the designated crosswalk area after one car had stopped. Another car, coming up alongside the stopped car, kept driving, according to reports.

School officials said police and EMS responded and transported the student to

An aerial view of Huron High School.

From A2schools.org