Dear Courtney,

I live at 645 N 4th #3 and wish to support more building in Ann Arbor. In my view, the only way to make the city more affordable is to build to the point till prices fall.

I also believe that pro-zoning people are good people who also believe in BLM (it's not uncommon to see the same lawns used for both signages). They'll be pleasantly surprised at how vital their neighborhoods will become when people of different races and socioeconomic status move in. Gentrification's biggest evil is that it silently makes you increasingly (and baselessly) afraid of people not like you.

Sincerely,
Venky
