I visit A2 on a bi-weekly basis for work, however I am disappointed to inform you that after bringing your upcoming deer cull to my company's management, we have since moved our meetings to Detroit. We will not tolerate the needless killing of deer and the threats towards HSHV.

Please notify me if you scrap your plans to host the deer cull so we can consider moving our meetings back to A2. Thanks...

Dear City Council Members

I am writing to you to postpone the Nixon Farms North and South conditional zoning for the following reasons

1. The conditional zoning agreement was not available to be viewed until 5pm on Friday and was not even available on ETrack until then. This does not give residents enough time to read through the agreement.
2. The conditional zoning does not include the 16.5 acres of parkland for Nixon North that the builders had promised.
3. How is the flooding of Dhu Varrren Rd going to be handled or who is going to handle the flooding mitigation? As far as I know the builders are just going to put the round about in but are not going to fix the flooding issue. How can more developments be approved if that is the case?
4. The traffic study including Green Road has to be conducted before any zoning can be approved. This has not happened so far.

For all of the above reasons, I strongly urge CC to postpone approving the conditional zoning review and possible approval until January.

--Lakshmi

Please reconsider the proposed slaughter of 100 deer in Ann Arbor. The deer herd is not sufficiently large for such a "hunt". There is no real need for such action, rather wild animals should be encouraged since their presence denotes a healthy environment. I suggest you contact the DNR for appropriate guidance in this matter $90,000 to kill 100 deer? Many 'hunters' would do this for free.

I can't help wondering who on the Council has a 'friend, husband, loved one' who will split the $90,000 with the council member.

Why else would a city risk citizen lives, threaten retaliation against a humane society, have spur of the moment meetings and allow guns in children's parks?

It's all about the money.

The Ann Arbor City Council seems to be showing politics at it's best. I am so disappointed in your city council, that you would stoop this low. To kill so many deer??!! It is outrageous! Help them, don't kill them.

The old saying goes, "there will be blood on all of your hands", and to threaten to pull money from the animal shelter. That is low.

Dear city council members:

While I am not a resident of Ann Arbor, my daughter lives there while she attends UM-AA. She will be transferring to a different campus when the semester ends in December. She can no longer live in Ann Arbor as she can no longer support your city due to your proposal to kill dozens of deer this winter. One of my co-workers told me the other day that he's moving his family out of the city in January due to the cull.

You gotta reverse these horrible plans. People and businesses are leaving left and right. Thanks to you, my daughter has to go through a difficult process to switch schools in a different city!

Dear Council Members;

Whether you know it or not, the world does care about the ethics and morality of your decision to take innocent life. Deer are in fact sentient beings, and the murder of them will be just that: murder. For those of us who understand that the world is evolving forward to fully realize the interconnectedness of all beings, such a step would be atrocious.

Please vote no on any such actions and show that there are moral voices for animals in your state.

Thank you,

Shawna Watson

Subject: Stop The Shoot - Save the Deer!

Dear Council members, dear Mayor Taylor,

I am writing you to share my strong opposition to the decision you made to hire sharpshooters to kill 100 deer this winter.

My opposition is factual and based on the following considerations:

1. Recent aerial surveys did not identify an overpopulation of Deer, as they show density levels well below the DNR limit for an urban area. There is insufficient data to establish trends over time and aerial surveys are known to be a very inaccurate measurement method. No decision should be made based on such inaccurate data.
2. The number of Deer-Vehicle accidents is very low for a City of our size, Bicycle-Vehicle accidents are more numerous and should take precedence in terms of budget allocation. There are also efficient and long-term solutions to prevent Deer vs. Car accidents.
3. Killing Deer is an inefficient and extremely short-term mean to control their population as it creates an eco-system unbalance that result in a quick long term population rebound.
4. Managing a garden in a natural setting implies making concession for native plant and animal species. Rochester Hills Gardening with Deer is a great example.

Ann Arbor is one of the most educated City in the Country that attracts and welcomes thousands of people from around the World. It is our responsibility to maintain our exceptional reputation by using all the resources at our disposal and implement an innovative and forward-thinking solution to this problem.

Thank you for your consideration.
Cheryl Hogue

For one thing, it doesn't look like you have much of an overpopulation problem. And killing them is just an old-fashioned method of population control that doesn't work all that well. There are other methods of controlling their population. Won't you try one of them? Hiring sharp shooters is primitive and dangerous. Please do the humane thing and explore other options.

Social Media and the Internet have brought to the public's attention your proposal to hire snipers to kill 100 deer. Sadly, we then learn that you threatened to pull funding from a local animal shelter after the public protested.

Please know how damaging your stated intentions are to your reputation. Just look at some of the comments coming in on Facebook to see how the public is reacting to how you are handling the situation. 98% of your constituents don't want these animals to be harmed!!

Listen to the people that you work on behalf of and look for non-lethal, more compassionate ways to handle the situation.

All eyes are on you as the public awaits your decision....

Dear Council Member Westphal,

I am writing to you to share my strong opposition to the decision you made regarding the use of taxpayer money to kill healthy deer.

None of the data presented to Ann Arbor City Council indicates there is an emergency situation nor an overpopulation of deer, that justifies the need of a deer cull using sharpshooters in our city.

It is a known fact among wildlife behaviorists and conservationists that a natural phenomenon known as the Compensatory Rebound Effect takes place when culling is used to reduce the population of any species, especially deer.

Once culling takes place, left with fewer members and abundant food supply, does will have two to three fawns rather than one naturally trying to restore the population, and even surpass the number before the the culling. This creates a never ending cycle of culling and repopulation, ensuring the culling will have to be repeated each following year, requiring more deer to be slaughtered and further taxpayer funding spent on a temporary solution.

I would have hoped that as a member of the Ann Arbor City Council that you would have supported a more humane option than the baiting of deer and then shooting them in the head.

"The greatness of a nation and its moral progress can be judged by the way its animals are treated."

Mohandas Gandhi

Respectfully ,

Leslie Geiser

Dear Council Members of Ann Arbor:

I hope you fully understand how unhappy, disappointed and even angry many of your constituents are with your vote to have a deer cull. Your actions regarding the deer living in Ann Arbor will result in consequences you'll find displeasing. Ann Arbor's reputation has become one that is distasteful for many of your constituents and they are having meetings and there is a large number of citizens who have become more aware of your vote. Constituents who are now determined to ensure you are NOT RE-ELECTED during the next election.

Deciding to side with a small, but very vocal number of constituents will not bode well for an elected official who continues to ignore the voices of the larger group of citizens. The deer are not a problem for the majority of citizens and there is more and more anger growing against those who have the authority to do something about it.

There is time to make the right decision and STOP the CULL.

Sincerely,

Ilene Beninson

Dear Council members, dear Mayor Taylor,

I am writing you to share my strong opposition to the decision you made to hire sharpshooters to kill 100 deer this winter.

My opposition is factual and based on the following considerations:

1. Recent aerial surveys did not identify an overpopulation of Deer, as they show density levels well below the DNR limit for an urban area. There is insufficient data to establish trends over time and aerial surveys are known to be a very inaccurate measurement method. No decision should be made based on such inaccurate data.
2. The number of Deer-Vehicle accidents is very low for a City of our size, Bicycle-Vehicle accidents are more numerous and should take precedence in terms of budget allocation. There are also efficient and long-term solutions to prevent Deer vs. Car accidents.
3. Killing Deer is an inefficient and extremely short-term mean to control their population as it creates an ecosystem unbalance that result in a quick long term population rebound.
4. Managing a garden in a natural setting implies making concession for native plant and animal species. Rochester Hills Gardening with Deer is a great example.

Ann Arbor is one of the most educated City in the Country that attracts and welcomes thousands of people from around the World. It is our responsibility to maintain our exceptional reputation by using all the resources at our disposal and implement an innovative and forward-thinking solution to this problem.

Thank you for your consideration.

Dear Mrs. Lumm and Mr. Warpehoski,

I would like to thank you both for responding quickly to my letter. This proves that despite our differing opinions we all agree on taking this issue seriously and that you are open to a dialog.

As you have stated, the long term potential risks of a Deer (or any other species) overpopulation are very serious and should not be taken lightly. Fear though, can lead to hurried decisions and undesirable results especially with irreversible actions such as a cull. It would take just one stray bullet or a Deer frightened by a shot jumping in front of a vehicle to send our community in shock.

Deer population is very difficult to measure, and long-term data is absolutely necessary to making any decision on population control. Incidental sightings, or punctual vegetation reports are inadequate to that effect and cannot responsibly be used for an action of this importance. Deer food is possibly the best method to observe over the long term through its interaction with its eco-system. It can also be used to control its population. The decision you made to ban Deer feeding is certainly an attempt in that direction. Have you collected long-term "before" vegetation data that will allow you to measure the true effect of that decision? This is essential since the removal of an existing (artificial) source of food could drive Deer to another (natural) source such as new tree growth... Any action to change the current eco-balance should be measured and planned carefully.

Deer is not just an other species as they are one of the most evolved life forms in our immediate environment. They are mammals just like us, and display elaborate social patterns. It is our responsibility to treat them humanly.

Our City is uniquely positioned as it has the human potential and therefore the duty to perform a more comprehensive assessment of the situation and identify innovative solutions. U of M School of Natural Resources & Environment (SNRE) has no less than 68 PhD right here on Church Street. The strength of our community is shown by our ability to turn our challenges in victories. For example, a specific SNRE study funded by Public/Private partnership supported by volunteer from the community and by donations could be a great example of how we solve problems in Ann Arbor.

Let's make sure we do not let this issue be a source of division as we deserve better. Let's be Victors!

Regards.

In addition, some of the items that were not addressed were not possible :

Notables are;

- please do not move forward with the development.
- reduce the density by half
- please build single family homes

The rest I have addressed.

Question #4: Toll Brothers told some neighborhood representatives that they would collect all the concerns from the neighborhoods. They also said they would compile and provide this information to the City. Has this been done? If so, could you please provide that information.

We have met with the Foxfire, Foxridge, Ashford, Orchard and Bromley Communities and have extended an invitation out to Arbor Hills and Chapel Hill Communities (no response as of yet).

The meetings were mostly focused on the traffic and intersection issues. Other notable topics were:

- 1) Nixon corridor traffic study (if we supported it): we have provided additional roadway easement for future use if the city decides to use it.
- 2) Average sales prices of each product : currently South is approx. upper 200's and North is upper 300's

- 3) Density. North is approx. 3 units/acre, South is approx. 7 units/acre
- 4) How will the HOA be managed and how the common area will be maintained. : HOA manager will be in place from the first closing. The common area associated with the development will be maintained in perpetuity by the community association.
- 5) What happens if the City doesn't build the intersection. We are currently researching the answer.
- 6) What is the impact of the water run-off? After many design meetings with the Water Resource Commission, the impact will be very minimal (Atwell for details)
- 7) What will the lighting plan entail within the community? We understand that the surrounding communities as well as our buyers will prefer downward lighting as opposed to 180 degree lighting, which is found to be an annoyance.
- 8) Can anything be done with the street view on Nixon Road (townhomes)? We have created more open space between buildings along Nixon Road as well as created a "meandering" sidewalk similar to the most recently completed sidewalk project on the East side of Nixon Road.
- 9) Can there be a more dense buffer between Fox Ridge and Nixon South? As well as adjusting the building arrangement in response to the community responses, We are looking into various strategies of tree plantings to create a suitable buffer between the neighboring residences.

The developer has responded to all of these questions during the various meetings and have also made some significant contributions:

- $1.+M funding for the intersection.
- Changes to the Nixon South at Nixon Road- sidewalk and street elevation/open space changes.

Question #16: In requesting postponement until tonight's meeting, the developer indicated they would be setting up meetings with neighborhood associations. Can you please provide a status update on those meetings – notes/minutes on discussion items/neighborhood input for any meetings that have been held, and the times/locations for meetings scheduled? (Lumm)

We have, as indicated above, met with Fox Ridge and Fox Fire since our last City Council Meeting. The other meetings were prior to our last meeting. We have extended an invitation to meet with the Arbor Hills community as well as Chapel Hill and are still waiting for a response. A notable meeting request that has gone un answered is to Mr. James D'Amour of the Sierra Club-Huron Valley Group in response to his comments during our annexation council meeting.

Please contact me if you would like me to provide an further information.

The thought of sharpshooters - snipers - in our area, in our parks, taking down these gentle creatures makes me sick. We know there are better ways and we need to take the TIME to come up with a solution that works for everyone in the city.

Thank you for your consideration.

Kirk,

I had made a suggestion on a blog a couple of weeks ago for a good solution to the deer issue. The more I think about it the more it seems to make sense.

Ann Arbor could build a fence around the city. Seriously. Guessing it would be 100-125 miles long, probably a hassle getting easements and agreements. But it would prevent entry by most of the deer [the fence would block 99.9% of open access] create chutes where if the deer tried to enter they could be repelled by odors, sounds, other passive means, prevent shooting of rifles within the city. Maybe your guys could come up with a rough costing per mile? Not going to be cheap at all but maybe doable ??

Regards,

Jim

Please save the deer. There are much more important things to spend that money on. How this can even be coincided at the same time that the development behind Arborland is being toyed with is outrageous. Why spend that much money, only to turn around and destroy more of the deer's habitat? Why is it also needed to knock off so much of the herd at once? This seems very obsessive.

Please rethink this

Mayor Christopher Taylor

I'm writing to ask you to cancel your plans to kill one hundred deer this winter. While I do not live in your state, the plight of the deer has been all over the internet, from petitions to facebook. People from every state are involved, whether residents or no--when it comes to killing of beautiful, innocent animals, I think the human race as a whole needs to step up and say something.

It has been proved time and again that killing does not deter deer or prevent them from re-populating. Non-lethal options such as sound/smell deterrents, barriers, enforced "no feeding" rules for residents, among other things, work better than killing. Sites from "This Old House," to "WIKIHOW," to "Better Homes&Gardens," all tout non-lethal methods, and they do work! In Connecticut, where I'm from, we have an abundance of deer. Barriers, planting certain plants, and smell deterrents have all proven very effective in my yard, and in my neighbors. It is far better and more humane to do it this way--killing is NEVER the answer. It breaks my heart to think that you would allow a slaughter of these majestic creatures. Not to mention that 98% of your residents do not support the measure.

Please do NOT turn to killing as a solution, when we all know the humane methods are far superior, and there is no need for such a massacre.

Thank you,
Jamila HadjSalem
