21	Why is this an important question? How is a 'sign' defined - if I want to paint text on an entire exterior wall, is that a sign? And would it be un-permitted?	2/13/2020 12:49 PM
22	not permitted unless small!!!	2/13/2020 12:43 PM
23	Some standard related to visibility from the street. A larger sign on a house further from the street has the same impact as a smaller closer one	2/13/2020 12:39 PM

#	OTHER (PLEASE SPECIFY ADDITIONAL OPTIONS).	DATE
1	Only on the main floor next to the front door.	2/25/2020 3:03 PM
2	Do not allow any such signage	2/23/2020 10:41 AM
3	HW	2/20/2020 11:11 PM
4	no requirements	2/18/2020 4:17 PM
5	I can't think of a reason why we should restrict signs in these ways. Admittedly, without much context, it's hard to provide helpful feedback in this survey. Also, I ticked a box above but I didn't mean it; this was the only way to complete the survey. This indicates to me poor survey design, as the question suggests that I can select none of the above.	2/18/2020 10:36 AM
6	It will depend on what the sign is for.	2/17/2020 1:03 PM
7	Where ever makes sense.	2/15/2020 2:33 PM
8	I want to select none, but this survey is making me.	2/15/2020 1:47 PM
9	Only one sign should be on a building	2/15/2020 9:57 AM
10	No signs	2/14/2020 9:54 PM
11	I don't understand why the location of signs needs to be regulated. (NOTE: there is a bug in the survey; it won't allow me to submit unless at least one checkbox above is checked. I've checked one at random but would had preferred to leave all three unchecked.)	2/14/2020 8:21 PM
12	Historical plaques are fine but signs should not display rental information. These are ugly and take away from the beauty of our neighborhoods.	2/14/2020 11:52 AM
13	The smaller the better, close to the door.	2/14/2020 7:05 AM
14	Don't care.	2/13/2020 11:51 PM
15	I don't think it's the city business to regulate signs on private property	2/13/2020 9:21 PM
16	No. There are other things you all should be doing. This is a waste of time and money.	2/13/2020 8:41 PM
17	None of these are appropriate. Signs should be placed wherever	2/13/2020 8:36 PM
18	Signs should be placed on the front, in a location that is useful and informative, but not intrusive.	2/13/2020 8:35 PM
19	no advertisement signs	2/13/2020 4:56 PM
20	No restrictions on placement. (please IGNORE the multiple choice response. I had to pick one)	2/13/2020 3:17 PM
21	Wherever they want	2/13/2020 3:00 PM
22	I think that signs on residential buildings other than historical plaques should not be allowed in the historic neighborhoods.	2/13/2020 2:52 PM
23	I didn't want to select any requirements, but it made me select one. My preference is no requirements	2/13/2020 2:39 PM
24	no signs	2/13/2020 2:17 PM
25	Signs can be placed anywhere. I HAD to select an option for this survey to work, but there should be no restrictions.	2/13/2020 1:39 PM
26	No location requirements.	2/13/2020 1:31 PM
27	where best visible	2/13/2020 1:29 PM
28	No restrictions (quiz won't let me finish without selecting at least one box).	2/13/2020 1:24 PM
29	Some distinction needs to be made based on the content of the sign. A historic district plaque is quite different than a permanent advertisement of student rooms for rent which is kept up for years and depresses neighboring property values. Different types of messages could, and probably should, be regulated differently, especially with permanent commercial messages ('Student Rooms - No Lease') affixed to single or duplex houses.	2/13/2020 1:06 PM

30	None of the above. Sign location should depend on visibility factors.	2/13/2020 12:52 PM
31	This question made me select a box above, so I selected all of them. I wanted to select none of them. Still not sure why this is an important question	2/13/2020 12:49 PM
32	No signs should be allowed	2/13/2020 12:45 PM
33	Not permitted at all	2/13/2020 12:43 PM
34	No signs	2/13/2020 12:43 PM
