Economic Development
Corporation

THE ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION OF THE CITY OF ANN ARBOR

2020 Annual Report

The Economic Development Corporation of the City of Ann Arbor ("EDC") was established in 1978 by City Council to assist in the attraction, relocation, retention and expansion of business organizations and non-profit entities which provide employment and which are beneficial to the populace, the economy and the environment of Ann Arbor.

The EDC isn't a lending institution but its use permits substantial savings on the costs of a loan. It does so by its issuance of tax-exempt private activity and non-profit revenue bonds. These are purchased by the lender with the proceeds disbursed in essentially the same manner as a conventional commercial mortgage loan. Because the interest received by the lender is tax exempt in whole or in part, it permits the interest rate to be reduced accordingly.

The EDC Board of Directors reviews applications for its bonds and then recommends to Council those projects it judges to be in the interests of the City. Because of significant changes in Federal tax law since 1986, the use of its bond financing assistance has been limited primarily to manufacturing and non-profit projects. In practice, the EDC has favored projects which are sensitive to environmental concerns and which add to the diversity of the jobs pool in the City. Since its inception, the EDC has issued over one hundred forty million dollars in revenue bonds for thirty-four projects in the City. For its services EDC charges applicants a filing fee of $650 plus a project completion fee of one-quarter to one-half percent of the principal amount of the bond.

The EDC Board of Directors believes the EDC may be a resource for the City for other services related to economic development in addition to bond financing. In 2018, its Articles of Incorporation were amended to emphasize this availability. The Board has considered a number of possibilities and welcomes additional ones from the public. Three are presently underway. The EDC has made itself available for involvement with the Treeline Trail project that may include participation in a public-private partnership with its role(s) to be determined as the project evolves.

It has initiated a possible consortium of EDCs that may include some or all of those fourteen County communities which have established EDCs in the past. Because of its significant implications for economic development in the City, an affordable housing team has been assembled to explore ways and means this problem may be addressed.

In addition to its past, present and projected activities, the EDC has made a number of grants for various economic development-related activities. These have included those awarded to the Center for Empowerment and Economic Development, Ann Arbor Spark, the Washtenaw Development Council, the Chamber Innovation Center, the Ann Arbor Summer Festival and the Michigan Technology Council.

EDC Directors are nominated by the Mayor and appointed to six-year terms by City Council. Meetings of the EDC Board of Directors are held on an as-required basis. Meeting notices are posted in advance and all EDC meetings are open to the public.
