FoolMoon, April 9, 2021

Attached for your information is a communication from WonderFools, the organizers for the annual event, FoolMoon, which is typically held the first weekend in April in conjunction with the FestiFools parade. The FestiFools parade will be delayed until next year, due to the pandemic. There are no street closures for this event. As noted in the attachment: "FoolMoon 2021 is designed for safe and socially distanced public art experiences centered in the Kerrytown, Main Street, and State Street downtown districts in Ann Arbor, and including FoolMoon activities at home and via an online, virtual event platform."
