Resolution to Approve and Appropriate FY 22 Budget and Allocations for 6-month Transition Grants to Non-Profit Entities for Human Services - $1,093,021.50 (General Fund) (8 Votes Required)

The City and the County have worked together for many years to provide human services funding to local non-profits, and therefore, the funding decisions that the County makes and the funding decisions that the City makes have an impact on local non-profit service providers. With Coordinated funding ending, and the onset of the pandemic, both the City and the County provided 6-month transition grants (R-21-202) to previous Coordinated Funding grantees which expire on December 31, 2021. The additional transition grants provide additional time for the County and City to work together to develop a new funding model. The original intent was to issue a new Request for Proposal and allocate funds prior to the December 31, 2021 transition grant expiration date. To prevent a gap in services to the community, staff is recommending additional transition grants for an additional six months, to provide time to formalize the New Human Services Partnership, develop a new RFP(s) and review process, to recommend and allocate funds by July 1, 2022.

HISTORY:

Over the last few years, the Coordinated Funding partners (including City of Ann Arbor) had identified the desire to change and redirect the partnership, adding in a focus on equity and a focus on addressing racism, poverty and trauma. Work had started on shifting the partnership and model, however, that work was put on hold last year as the COVID-19 shifted staff priorities to immediate pandemic response activities in 2020 and 2021.

In early fall 2020, the Ann Arbor Area Community Foundation announced that they were exiting the partnership, and the end of Coordinated Funding was announced to the Community. Several partners expressed interest in seeing if there can be a future partnership for human services funding with more of an equity focus, however those details are yet to be formalized.

In the summer of 2021, planning began in earnest, first by convening the County and City leadership teams separately, then together to work through goals and process for the New partnership. In August, 5 community sessions were held with more than 150 participants attending the sessions to provide feedback, ask questions and respond to proposed new direction (<https://www.washtenaw.org/3422/New-Human-Services-Partnership-Planning>), to focus on addressing root causes of oppression: poverty, racism and trauma. The proposed model recommended three funding rounds:

- Safety net grant round in fall of 2021,
- Mini grants to support BIPOC lead organizations and designed to provide opportunities for new grantees as well as a means to try out new ideas.
- High-impact funding round scheduled for the spring of 2022 that would look to achieve a significant impact over five years of funding to enable grantees to scale in new ways to change the base conditions of county residents.

The proposed model would include inviting in additional funding partners and contracting with an outside evaluator to support collection of metrics and review of outcomes for all funding opportunities.

The planning process slowed in September and October, partially due to the attention and focus on ARPA funding process at the County, as well as other emergent community issues. In September, County and City leadership met with potential community funding partners, who requested more information about the partnership, and details about the roles, timing, and investment.

The staff recommendation below is for six months of additional funding for all agencies awarded in the last Coordinated Funding grant round that serve Ann Arbor residents. Grantees would receive half of the FY21 (ending June 30, 2021) funding amount, which is a slight increase over the original 6-month transition grants, which were funded at approximately 93% of FY21 grants. The total cost is $1,093,021.50. Staff proposes funding in the following ways:

- $613,764 which is already budgeted and allocated for Coordinated Funding in the FY22 General Fund budget
- $350,499 to be appropriated from the County Mental Health Millage fund allocated to affordable housing but unspent
- $128,759 to be appropriated from the General Fund, fund balance for the remaining portion

Staff recommends the above allocations and budget appropriations as needed for the allocation to providers listed below, and that the City execute contracts with listed providers for amounts listed below prior to the end of the calendar year 2021.

Washtenaw County administration and staff is also recommending 6-month transition grants to Coordinated Funding grantees. Both the City, County and Washtenaw Urban County funding recommendations are listed below.
